Dear Andy,

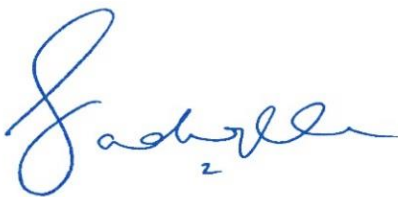

I wanted to write to you as I understand that you are set to be retiring from working for Leathermarket JMB later this year.

Tackling the housing crisis in our city is a top priority for me and I am particularly proud to have London's councils building again, with more new council homes being built last year than at any time since the 1970s. I know this is an agenda that you and Leathermarket JMB have played an important part in contributing to, as well as powerfully advocating for more new council and social housing rights across our city.

I hope you will continue to be a valued ally in the campaign for more of the council and social housing that London needs.

All the best for your retirement.

Yours sincerely,
